

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS College of Media

Transfer Information for All Programs

To be eligible for transfer admission, the prospective transfer student must have completed at least 30, but no more than 90 semester hours (no more than 65 semester hours for Advertising majors), of transferable credit and present evidence of an aptitude for and interest in a career in Media. The College of Media places great importance on the essay to be completed as part of the application. Applicants should use the essay to demonstrate their interest and abilities within their chosen major and detail any pertinent extracurricular activities or internships. A GPA of 3.00 (A=4.00) or better is required for all programs except Advertising which is a 3.25 minimum and Computer Science + Advertising which is a 3.5 minimum. Please note that completion of required coursework and attainment of a specific GPA does not guarantee admission. Candidates for second bachelor's degrees are not admitted due to space limitations. Students, minimally, must earn 60 hours of University of Illinois course credit to earn a degree. Students who would require more than nine total semesters of overall college or university enrollment to complete their degree may be denied admission due to space limitations. Students must be able to complete their College of Media degrees within seven semesters of joining this college as sophomore transfers (with 30 to 59 transferable hours) or within five semesters of joining this college as junior transfers (with 60 to 89 transferable hours). A minimum of five semesters within this college is required for students admitted as sophomores. A minimum of three semesters within this college is required for students admitted as juniors.

During their freshman and sophomore years, students should complete basic courses in composition and general education coursework, including: economics, psychology, sociology, statistics, and in one language other than English. About two-thirds of a student's academic program should be in social sciences and humanities. (See General Education requirements below.) Admissions evaluators tend to pay particular attention to how well students perform in courses involving writing and, particularly for Advertising and Computer Science + Advertising applicants, applied mathematics.

Most required courses in Advertising, Computer Science + Advertising, Journalism and Media and Cinema Studies must be completed at the University of Illinois. Students may test their interest in the Media field. However, a maximum of nine hours of transferable Media courses are allowed toward the 124-hour graduation requirement.

Students must complete at least 30 semester hours of transferable credit, and all required courses for transfer should be completed by the end of the semester prior to enrollment. Applicants will not be permitted to complete coursework to fulfill the 30-hour rule or required prerequisite coursework during the summer prior to fall enrollment, unless specifically asked to do so by the College of Media Admission's Dean.

General Education Requirements

Students who plan to graduate from the College of Media must complete the following campus General Education requirements before graduation: Composition I, Advanced Composition (must be satisfied by completion of University of Illinois coursework), Quantitative Reasoning I and II, Cultural Studies (3 courses), Language Requirement, and a minimum of six semester hours each in qualifying Humanities & the Arts, Social & Behavioral Sciences and Natural Sciences & Technology courses. Please refer to the Campus' General Education Course List at <https://courses.illinois.edu/gened> for categories and lists of qualifying courses.

All transfer students are required to complete equivalent transfer coursework to the following campus General Education categories prior to entry: Composition I, Quantitative Reasoning I and Social & Behavioral Sciences. The prerequisite courses required by major for the categories previously listed are displayed in bold, red italics. Transfer students also must be making substantial progress toward completion of the College of Media's General Education Language Requirement.

Language Requirement: For admission to all programs in the College of Media, transfer applicants must have completed, at a minimum, two years of one language other than English in high school or through the second level (two semesters) of one language other than English in college by the end of the semester prior to enrollment. Completion of three years of one language other than English in high school or through the third level (three semesters) in college satisfies this college's graduation requirement.

James Scholar Honors Program

Transfer students who are interested in being considered for the College of Media's James Scholar program should review admission and requirement information at <https://media.illinois.edu/james-scholars>. Those students who have at least a 3.75 transfer GPA at the time of their University admission are invited to join the program. Students should inform their academic advisor during New Student Registration about their interest in joining. Note, students must complete at least one Honors project each academic year and a minimum of four projects to graduate as a James Scholar. The fourth project must be completed during the fall term of their graduation year, REGARDLESS of the student's graduating semester (fall, spring, or summer). As a transfer into the program, students will need to make up one or two Honors activities in order to graduate with a minimum of four projects.

Advertising

Please refer to “Transfer Information for All Programs” and “General Education Requirements” on the first page of the College of Media section of the Transfer Handbook. Note, advertising applicants should have a minimum of a 3.25 GPA at the time of application.
